

Edyta Olejarczuk, Ph.D.

Edyta Olejarczuk obtained her PhD in Linguistics from the School of English at Adam Mickiewicz University, Poznań, Poland. She successfully completed a soft skills and entrepreneurship programme at the University of Alberta in Edmonton, Canada within a scholarship received from the Ministry of Science and Higher Education in Poland. She is a lecturer in the Center of Languages and Communication at Poznan University of Technology (Poland). She has extensive experience in conducting EMI courses for students and teachers and, together with her colleagues from Poland and Portugal, set up a CercleS Focus Group CLIL/EMI in Higher Education. Her interests include individual learner differences in foreign language learning and teaching as well as soft skills training. She has authored several articles in edited volumes and journals and has taken part in a number of international conferences. She has taught students at the University of Leon (Spain), University of Valencia (Spain) and University of Santander (Spain). She has also acted as an assistant to the editor of the Studies in Second Language Learning and Teaching journal.